

For Immediate Release

Fashion Sense 2008

Fashion and Music unite to benefit children with Autism and Asperger Syndrome in an unprecedented two day event.

Kip Winger, Disney's Everlife, and XYZ plus local favorites Oblivion, Breakline and Drenaline are scheduled to bring a pre-event concert on Friday July 18, 2008 at the Canton Palace Theater in Canton, Ohio, hosted by Matt Patrick. Other Talent TBA. This is an all age's event and welcomes families.

The fashion end of Fashion Sense will feature critically acclaimed designer Juliette Longuet and her one-of-a-kind designs in an exclusive Fashion Show on Sunday July 20, 2008 at The Bertram Inn and Conference Center, Aurora, Ohio.

Mission Statement:

Fashion Sense is a fashion show and fundraiser that will take place to benefit three different charities that provide services to Autistic and Asperger Syndrome Children in Ohio

Background:

The owners of Zaleski Productions, producers of the event, have dealt first-hand with the constant roller coaster that comes with finding the right treatments, therapies, support and schooling needed for an Autistic child as Laura and Ray Zaleski's 12 year old son Daniel is Asperger Syndrome. Therefore, this event has become a personal mission by Zaleski Productions to spread awareness and to find help for these wonderful charities they are in support of.

Due to their own experiences and the experiences of other families dealing with disorders on the Autism Spectrum, the producers of Fashion Sense knew that it was time to have a fundraiser that would bring much needed revenue to various schools and organizations that benefit children with these types of Neurological Disorders.

Note: all proceeds from Ticket sales and donations for this event will go to various charities in Northeast Ohio that help to provide education grants and specialty programs for children with Autism and Asperger Syndrome

Charities that will benefit from this event are as follows:

- ASPIES Greater Akron
- Dragonfly Academy of Stark County
- Challenger Baseball League
- The Autism Society of America
